Auto OEM Approvals

Automotive OEM's expect their coated parts to withstand harsh environments and repetitive use for years on end. With that in mind, TCI's automotive products were designed to defend against UV degradation, mar & chip resistance, and daily wear through tough seasonal weather conditions. Our technology platforms are also available in a broad range of colors, glosses and finishes.

TCI products are trusted year after year by the world's largest automotive & truck OEM's and their tier suppliers. Our powder coatings are sought after for their ease of application and transfer efficiency, as well as their long-term field performance. TCI is continually innovating new formulas & colors that meet and/or exceeded the strict testing requirements of the global OEM's for decorative & functional applications. These include interior, exterior, and under-body/under-hood applications.

A full list of our OEM Automotive Approvals can be found at tcipowder.com. If you have an automotive coating need, TCI's industry experts have the knowledge and experience to help you decide on the ideal coating for your unique project.
